GOMPERS HAS HOT OLD TIME IN BIG MEETING

European Delegates Claim His Attitude Is Equivocal As to International Federation of Unionism.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was the dramatic center of the first day's session of the sixth international trades unions congress when several European delegates bitterly denounced what they claimed to be the equivocal attitude of the American federation with reference to joining the international movement.

Gompers insisted that the problems and policies of American trades unionism were so intermingled with American traditions and ideas that Americans could ill spare the time to encounter the influence of European leaders where the trades unionism tendencies were temperamentally different.

Nevertheless, as an evidence that the United States was anxious for international co-operation, Mr. Gompers introduced a proposal favoring world wide organization, which would "defend the rights and interests of all and create international fraternity and solidarity."

The clash came over the question of the exact status of Mr. Gompers and the American Federation of Labor in the conference. Mr. Gompers explained that for the present he was merely an auditor, but was ready to give his opinions.

"Personally," he continued, "I have no authority to pledge the affiliation of the American Federation of Labor, but I believe it will come in time." Hueber, an Austrian delegate, vehemently characterized Mr. Gompers' explanation as mockery. He, like the others, had been under the impression that the Americans meant business and that Mr. Gompers was the official delegate from that country. Otherwise he could not understand how the American resolutions happened to be printed in the official program.

"I regret," explained Mr. Gompers, "that you have misconstrued my remarks as an attack upon European trades unionism. I repeat, we are sincerely desirous of international federation, but only so far as it preserves the American conception of unionism. If Europe does not want us it will be unfortunate."

Hueber retorted that it was now seven years since the Americans began talking about joining the international federation, and it was about time a decision was reached. "It now appears," he continued, "that Mr. Gompers is merely on a voyage of discovery."

UNION STREET IMPROVED.

Commissioner Dell Has Made Great Change in Thoroughfare.

One of the most notable changes to be made in the streets of Gainesville for a good many years is the complete rebuilding of East Union street, which has just been completed by Street Commissioner Dell.

This thoroughfare had been neglected so long that it was nothing but gulleys and holes, although one of the most important streets in Gainesville. During the past year it has had more buildings erected on it than any other one particular spot, and the improvements that have been made are no more than the progressive property owners are justly entitled to, for this is the first attention that it has received in about eight years.

Union street is now badly in need of a cement culvert, the same as has been placed at other places that are not used one-half as much as this street, and the City Council should take some action to see that it is placed there, saving the nice work that has just been done, and not allow it all to be washed off into Sweetwater branch.

The repairs were made with small cost, and it is a job that will greatly enhance the value of property in this district. The general public are proud of the change, as well as the individuals whose places it has improved.

HIGH SPRINGS NEWS.

HIGH SPRINGS, Aug. 31.—Rev. J. L. Yeates, pastor of the Methodist church in High Springs, and his family, have gone to Flvay to visit the mother of Mrs. Yeates.

Mrs. H. B. Foy is in Wilmington, N. C., visiting her son, A. B. Foy, Jr. Mrs. P. P. Wood has returned from a pleasant visit to Tampa.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Easterlin, Master Spencer Roach, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Godwin, Mrs. W. E. Dow and little son, Bill, have returned after spending a few weeks at White Springs.

Miss Nellie Stewart is visiting Worthington Springs.

Hugh L. Futch is spending some time in St. Petersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Holland and Master Hogan Tucker have gone for a few weeks' outing to points in Georgia and South Carolina.

Miss Gladys Dupuis, daughter of Judge J. S. Dupuis, has gone to Atlanta to attend school. She will be with her sister, Mrs. R. B. Bush, formerly a resident of High Springs, but now of Atlanta.

T. D. Futch is at home for a few days before returning to school in Auburn, Ala.

The many friends of J. H. Dow will be interested to learn of his recent marriage in Little Rock, Ark., to Miss Virginia Stokes of that city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. T. Christian, of the Second Baptist church. The bride is quite popular in Little Rock, where she graduated in April as a trained nurse from the Physicians and Surgeons Hospital. Mr. Dow is connected with the Mississippi Valley Life Insurance Co., and is a young man of much business ability. His hosts of friends in this section will wish much happiness to him and his bride.

"Never Sleeps" Is Home Again.

Jesse E. Burtz, "Never Sleeps," who has been absent for the past four weeks in Orlando working up a city directory for that place, has returned to his home here. He has about completed the work of canvassing, but it will require several weeks to tabulate the work and get the copy ready for the printers. He states he has met with fine success from the business men of Orlando, and that the book will represent about all of the business houses in an advertising way, nearly all of them having taken extra space.

IMPORTANT DECISION IN BANKRUPTCY CASE

Insurance Policies Not Assets In Such Case, According to Ruling of Judge Locke.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 31.—A far-reaching opinion, and one which will have a great effect on bankruptcy cases in Florida in the future, has been handed down by Judge J. W. Locke of the United States Court. Briefly stated, Judge Locke has ruled that in bankruptcy proceedings an insurance policy of the defendant shall not be considered part of the assets liable to conversion into cash. This ruling was made in the review of the case of C. W. Smith, following a previous hearing before Referee Frank D'Farrow of Lake City.

Following possible precedents Mr. D'Farrow ruled that the insurance policy of Mr. Smith should be considered part of the estate of the defendant. A petition for a rehearing was filed and Mr. De'Farrow's opinion was reversed. As far as hearings in the United States Court are concerned, the opinion of Judge Locke will be followed in the future, but there is possibility of appeals being made to the Appellate Court.

Numerous cases have been heard in the past, and following the construction put on such matters by the statutes of Florida it has been the rule to accept or take insurance policies, as were declared by the bankrupt. This ruling has never been questioned, or at least a contest had never been made previous to that entered by Mr. Smith. The importance of Judge Locke's opinion will be clearly seen. Through its influence a person will not be deprived of the benefits of a policy upon which large sums of money is about to mature. Neither will it take from a person a paid-up policy, which the defendant may hold, and which may be converted into cash at any time.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BEAL.

Services Held from Methodist Church Tuesday Morning.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Mr. J. A. Beal were held at the First Methodist church Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, Rev. F. R. Bridges officiating.

A large number of friends of the deceased and family were assembled at the house of worship to pay their last respects to the deceased, while the cortege was large that followed the remains to the cemetery, being made up by a great number of the Rocky Point people, where she made her home for a number of years after her marriage.

The remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground, along with the other members of the family who had preceded her. The floral offerings were many, covering the grave and casket.

ROOF IS BEING ADDED.

New Seaboard Depot Will Be Ready in Short While.

Work on the new Seaboard depot is progressing very rapidly and it will be ready for the accommodation of the public within the next few weeks.

The greatest delay now will be the hard walks that are to be placed about the building, for on this class of work it requires a certain length of time to season, and some hold-up in the time will probably be necessary in this respect.

About all of the carpenter work has been completed, and as soon as the roof has been finished and the partitions installed this part of the work will be ready for the painters on the inside, the exterior already having received its touches.

The Gazette says that "Bartow is a thriving little city and may produce many big things, but when it comes to producing fruits, vegetables, and field crops, Kissimmee leads all Florida towns."

President Taft Will Be Greeted By Naval Squadron

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 31.—New Orleans will be treated to a naval demonstration when the President, accompanied by a coterie of Governors of States, reaches that city on his trip this fall, if the present plans of the Navy Department do not go awry. It is now contemplated to welcome the President at New Orleans with four typical naval vessels, the list being made up of the first-class battleship Mississippi, which already has made a trip far up the river to receive a silver service from the State of Mississippi, and the armored cruiser squadron made up of the Montana, North Carolina and New York.

It may be the vessels will go considerably further up the river than New Orleans, the desire of the Navy Department being to enable the people inland to obtain a view of the small, but formidable aggregation of ships comprising the squadron.

Moon Will Obscure Mars For About An Hour Tonight

GENEVA, N. Y., Aug. 31.—An interesting eclipse of Mars by the moon, visible throughout the United States, will take place on Wednesday evening, Sept. 1, according to a bulletin issued by Prof. William R. Brooks, at Smith's observatory today. The phenomenon will last about an hour, beginning in the longitude of Washington at 8:42 p. m., and ending at 9:28.

The eclipse will be visible to the naked eye.

Great Free Practice Game At Park Today at 4 P. M.

Put your hammer in the locker.
Hide your sounding board likewise;
Anyone can be a knocker,
Anyone can criticize.

Cultivate a manner winning.
Though it hurts your face to smile
And seems awkward in beginning—
Be a "booster" for awhile.

Everyone in Gainesville, whether they intend accompanying the baseball boys to Ocala or not on Thursday, are asked to come out to the big practice game this afternoon at the ball park and see the nice manner in which the Oak Halls have lined up for the coming "combat" with Ocala, commencing on Thursday afternoon.

There are some changes in the team that Manager Davis wants the people to see, and wants them to also see the manner in which the ball is handled by the changes he has made among the boys, for he feels that it is to their interest to see them.

The exhibition practice will be free this afternoon, and is to "warm them up" just a little before taking their journey, which will mean shall we remain the champions, or allow Ocala to "cop" out at this late day?

The railroad people have been very kind in the matter of train service and given a rate of fifty cents for the round trip, the train to leave Gainesville at 1:15 p. m., and returning leave Ocala at 7 p. m. for home.

Ticket Agent Goodwin desires to state for the benefit of the ladies who anticipate going on this trip, that the last three coaches will be reserved especially for them and will be kept so, both going and coming, and that the strictest order will prevail on the train.

Visit the park, see the boys work out, and then make up your mind to accompany the team on the trip and see them come out victorious.

Indications Point to Only 10,500,000 Bale Crop

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 31.—The reports of the National Ginners' Association made public yesterday evening, gives the condition of cotton up to and including August 24th as 64.1 per cent.

"This is the lowest condition in a number of years," the report says, "and indicates a crop of about 10,500,000 bales. An early frost would reduce these figures somewhat, and a late frost would probably increase the total yield to 11,000,000 bales."

The report of averages by States follows:
Alabama, 64; Arkansas, 59; Florida,

76; Georgia, 74; Louisiana, 54; Mississippi, 62; Missouri, 89; North Carolina, 75; Oklahoma, 58; South Carolina, 76; Tennessee, 75; Texas, 75.

General average 64.1.

This indicates a crop of about 2,000,000 bales for Texas.

Ginners report that they ginned 1,365,185 bales last year in Texas and they estimate they will gin 776,119 bales this year with average weather.

NEGRO KNOCKS MAN DOWN AND "SKIPS OUT"

STRANGER TO THESE PARTS AND KNOWN AS "SCOTTY."

Marshal Arnow Has Been Furnished
With Description and Is on Close Lookout.

A strange negro, known only as "Scotty," became enraged Tuesday morning at his employer, who was a vender in "scrap iron," and knocked him down, afterwards making good his escape for parts unknown.

Following the incident the marshal was notified, and at first it was thought that a regular "knock-down and drag-out" was in progress near the ice factory.

The man who had the negro employed is known here as Mr. Nooney, and he stated that he refused to pay the negro because he quit him and caused a loss of several dollars by the rest of his men having to lay idle until the negro's place could be substituted.

Marshal Arnow has been furnished with a description of the party and is now on the lookout for him. Although the man was stunned for a short while he was able to resume his duties a short while afterwards superintending the loading of "junk" iron he has been purchasing about this place.

BRICK WORK RUSHING.

Large Force Is Now Engaged on the Government Building.

A large force of bricklayers has at last been started on the Government building in this city, and this is now one of the busiest places to be found.

With all the bricklayers going, the iron workers all on the hustle, besides a large number of common laborers, it presents a busy scene.

Only a few more weeks and work will be started on the University buildings, and the two, together with the great amount of other public work, will create a great demand for labor in this section.

Burkheim's Changes.

The carpenters have begun the alterations to be made in the gents' furnishings store of L. J. Burkheim, on the East Side. He has received a number of enclosed closets which will take the place of the former home arrangement, and when finished his store will be one of the handsomest and most complete to be found in this section of Florida.

Court Postponed.

The large number of cases in the mayor's court which were to have been tried Tuesday morning were postponed until next Friday, when a full hearing will be had by the mayor. Most of the cases were for gambling.

An Arrangement Approved

"So they have reduced the number of trains that stop at your station?" "Yes," answered Mr. Crossroads. "There are only two a day at present—one to take us to town in the morning and one to bring us back at night."

"It must be a great disappointment." "Not at all. When we get a servant now she's obliged to stay at least one day."—Exchange

A SNAKE STORY.

The Yarn That Was Spun by a Traveler in Australia.

An Australian traveler says that he was one day walking in the thick scrub, collecting specimens, when he came upon a large light brown snake, a species of python, coiled upon the ground.

He was by far the finest one he had ever seen at large. He was probably ten or twelve feet long and as thick as a man's leg at the knee.

He looked savage enough to devour a man, and at first the collector felt half inclined to run away.

He recovered himself, however, and was on the point of shooting the serpent with a charge of dust shot in order to carry home his skin when it occurred to him that he would be worth five times as much if he were taken alive.

"I had," he says, "a leather strap with a buckle in my game bag, and with this I determined to noose the snake."

"I started toward him, but when I came near he partly uncoiled, opened his mouth very wide, thereby disclosing his sharp teeth, and, hissing spitefully, struck at me. I dodged behind a small tree and, leaning out as far as I dared, tried several times to noose him."

"After I had teased him for some time he suddenly started off at full speed. I caught my gun and by dint of hard running through the thick scrub managed to head him off. He coiled, and again I tried the noose, but he put his head under his coils in a very sulky manner. I reached out from my shelter behind a tree and caught him by the tail, but he pulled away with great force and glided off again."

"This time he took refuge under a fallen tree and before I could head him off was gliding down the hole of some wild animal."

"I reached the spot just as the last two or three feet of his body were disappearing, and, seizing his tail with both hands, I hung on desperately. With my feet braced against a limb of the tree I pulled till the tail cracked and snapped as if it would break asunder. Sometimes he pulled me to within a few inches of the hole, and then I would brace myself against the limb and drag him halfway out."

"At last I grew so tired that I had to let go my hold, and with many regrets I saw the last few inches of the tail disappear beneath the earth."

MRS. JOHNSON KNOWS.

She Says That Parisian Sage Is the Only Real Hair Tonic.

Parisian Sage is the quick acting hair grower that can now be obtained in America and that is guaranteed by W. M. Johnson to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

Mrs. Johnson says:

"Parisian Sage is the only hair tonic that ever benefited my hair. I began to use it daily for a while, afterwards I used it according to directions. I am absolutely positive that it will thoroughly cleanse the scalp and hair, stop irritation, eradicate dandruff, stimulate the growth of the hair, prevent baldness, and make the hair soft and silky."—Mrs. Sue Johnson, 229 4th street, Frankfort, Ky.

Parisian Sage is a most delicately perfumed hair dressing and has not a particle of stickiness or greasiness in it.

Women who desire beautiful and luxuriant hair that will attract and fascinate, should use Parisian Sage. Leading druggists everywhere sell it. W. M. Johnson sells it in Gainesville for 50 cents a large bottle, and guarantees it to give satisfaction, or money back. The girl with the auburn hair is on every package. Made in America by Gironx Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

He Did His Part Thoroughly.

In order to avoid an argument with a woman suffragist on the subject of her hobby a happy bachelor gallantly acquiesced in the truth of her assertions.

"But, sir," sternly remarked the spinster, "your admission is anything but creditable to you. What, for instance, have you ever done for the emancipation of woman?"

"Madam," responded the gentleman, with a polite smile and a bow, "I have at least remained a bachelor!"

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

If an old sore existed simply because the flesh was diseased at that particular spot, it would be an easy matter to apply some remedy directly to the place that would kill the germs; or the diseased flesh might be removed by a surgical operation and a cure effected. But the very fact that old sores resist every form of local or external treatment, and even return after being cut away, shows that back of them is a morbid cause which must be removed before a cure can result. Just as long as the pollution continues in the blood, the ulcer remains an open cesspool for the deposit of impurities which the circulation throws off. S.S.S. cures Old Sores by purifying the blood. It removes every trace of impurity and taint from the circulation, and thus completely does away with the cause. When S.S.S. has cleansed the blood, the sore begins to heal, and it is not a surface cure, but the healing process begins at the bottom; soon the discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, and the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S.S.S. the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be doubly benefited by its use. UNION ACADEMY.

Patrons Endorse Action of Supt. Kelley in Holding Oral Examination.

In response to a call of Dr. R. B. Ayer, chairman of the colored board of trustees, the patrons of Union Academy met on August 30th at the school building. After discussing many vital school questions an advisory board was elected to co-operate with the county and sub-district boards, after which the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, for some time there have been rumors afloat as to fraud in examinations among some of Alachua's teachers, and whereas as a result of these rumors the Honorable Board of Public Instruction and Supt. Dr. Kelley of Alachua county have recently taken measures to purify the profession of teaching in Alachua county, and especially Gainesville;

Therefore, be it resolved, That we, the patrons of Union Academy and citizens of Gainesville, do hereby endorse the action of the board in giving the teachers an oral examination, thus enabling the true teachers to come from under the cloud of suspicion.

Be it further resolved, That we thank the board for its action with regard to Union Academy, the evident object of which was to place the school on a higher plane of usefulness, and since Union Academy is the only high school in the county for negro youths; we pray the Honorable Board that hereafter, as far as practicable, they appoint a man who has at least a normal education, and can furnish testimony of successful experience in high-school work, as principal; and

Be it further resolved, That in all things pertaining to the betterment of our school interests, we pledge our hearty support.

DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in this vicinity.

Can Gainesville residents demand further proof than that contained in the following testimonial?

Oscar Osterman, of Starke, Fla., says: "I give Doan's Kidney Pills, the highest recommendation as they proved of more benefit to me than any other remedy I had previously used. I suffered from kidney trouble for some time. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and I was forced to arise from six to eight times during the night. I also had backache and was bothered by a pain through my loins. I finally procured Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon helped me. By the time I had taken the contents of two boxes, the backaches and pains entirely disappeared and the passages of the kidney secretions soon became regular. I now feel fifty per cent better than before in a long time."

An Independent Miller.

When Frederick built his famous palace of Sans Souci there happened to be a mill that greatly hampered him in the execution of his plans, and he asked the miller for how much he would sell it. The miller replied that for a long series of years his family had owned the mill, which had passed from father to son, and that he would not sell it for any price. The king used every solicitation, offered to build him a mill in a better place and pay him, besides, any sum he might demand, but the obstinate miller still persisted in his determination to preserve the inheritance of his ancestors.

Irritated at last by his conduct, the king sent for him and said in an angry tone:

"Why do you refuse to sell your mill notwithstanding all the advantages I have offered you?"

The miller repeated his reasons. "Do you know," continued the king, "that I could take it without giving you a penny?"

"Yes," returned the miller calmly, "if it were not for the chamber of justice at Berlin."

The king was so flattered by this answer, which showed that he was incapable of an act of injustice, that he dismissed the miller without further entreaty and changed the plan of his garden.

A Philosopher's Fable.

Arthur Auli is responsible for this one:

"Folly, Genius and Common Sense once went walking and came to a stream. Genius, having his head in the clouds, naturally started to wade across, paying no attention to the depth. The waters soon went over his head, and he was drowned. Common Sense hunted for a safe way to get across, and finally he found a foot log. As he got out about the center of the stream the log swayed, and he fell into the water and sank to rise no more. Folly stopped at the bank of the stream to amuse himself by throwing pebbles into the water and watching the waves. He sat upon the moist, cold bank until he caught a cold which developed into pneumonia, of which he soon died. Moral:—It doesn't make much difference, after all, whether you are a genius, a sage or a fool. You'll get it sooner or later anyway."—Exchange.

Told to Earn His Own Salary.

Commodore Vanderbilt discovered in James H. Rutter, then in the employ of the Erie railroad, a man he believed the freight department of the Central needed, says the Baltimore News. It is related that some time after he took charge of the Central's traffic office Rutter called on the commodore to submit a plan for improvement. When he had stated the case the president looked at him sharply and asked: "Rutter, what does the New York Central pay you $15,000 a year for?" The reply was, "For managing the freight traffic department."

And then the commodore said, "Well, you don't expect me to earn your salary for you, do you?"

Rutter went out and carried through his plan on his own judgment. The result was highly satisfactory. Rutter became president of the Central.

AMERICAN WANDERLUST.

A Habit Which Strengthens the Cohesive Unity of the Nation.

Less than half the members of the United States senate and house of representatives are native born in the states which they represent. Nothing could more clearly show the alert activities of the American people and that constant intermingling of the inhabitants of the several states which adds so much to the cohesive unity of the nation. The boy who goes to a distant state often accomplishes more than the one who goes straight on in the footsteps of his father in the home village. Even Daniel Webster was not born in the old Bay State, whose influence and dignity he so well sustained and whose people mourned him so sincerely when his great life closed.

This wandering from state to state has resulted in the organizing in New York city of many state societies, which aim to gather together the natives of their respective states annually to revive the pleasant memories of the old home days, with their thousand clinging ties.

What would happen if the American people should cease to wander about the country? is a question often asked. It is said that an eastern man never amounts to anything until he goes west and that a western man has to come east in order to attain his full stature mentally. The northern man is advised to go south to learn gentle courtesy and chivalric bearing, the southerner to go north to add more iron to his blood. There can be no doubt that this constant evolution has encouraged the birth of new ideas, just as the whirling of the kaleidoscope developed a toy into our present wonderful moving pictures, which gives us glimpses of life in motion all over the world.—Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine.

THE HURRYING BARBER.

Speed Manifested More in the Motions Than in the Results.

"Barbers," remarked the man with the short hair, "are born unable to hurry. Just you go into a shop, as I did the other day, wanting a hair cut, and ask the barber how long it will take. He told me, 'Oh, about twenty minutes' and I said to go ahead."

"That barber honestly believed he was hurrying, but he couldn't leave out those little snip-snips about the back of the neck they are all so fond of doing, and he had to cut the hair as if he were chiseling priceless marble. When it got to be about half an hour I said to him, 'You're a pretty bad judge of time, aren't you?' He came back with something about not wanting to turn out a poor job."

"I've known it to happen often in the case of shaving. When you tell a barber to hurry he dashes around on the tiled floor at imminent risk of falling, and he splashes the lather into your eyes and your mouth, but the fact remains that he takes as much time as usual to rub the lather into your face and as much time to shave you."

"I begin to believe there is some sort of rule regarding time that all barbers observe, because I have timed them. Once I asked a barber to hurry shaving me, and he had all the motions, but took up just as much time as when he went along at his usual gait."

"I imagine they believe the customer will be satisfied with the appearance of speed, and that's the reason they run around so and breathe heavily as if winded when changing from one side of the chair to the other."—New York Sun.

Children of Criminals.

It is a curious fact—one all at variance with the doctrines of heredity, but borne out by police records—that the children of crooks, of all classes, rarely turn out to be crooks themselves. Deeper study of the subject might reveal that they are possessed of the criminal instincts, but that the tragically close example of the punishment and wretchedness that attend a criminal career has been a terrifying deterrent. The fact, at any rate, remains. The rogues' galleries of Scotland Yard, New York and Chicago may be studied in vain for the photographs of a father and a son.—Argonaut.

An Atlanta mule recently kicked a trolley car off the track. It may become necessary to match the mule against the obstreperous automobile.

MALARIA.

A Statement of a Successful Cure. (Mrs.) Mabel Smith, Dallas, writes: "Feb. 1909, PAM-ALA has absolutely cured me of Malaria (Chills and Fever). For some months past I have lived in the swamps of Louisiana. I never saw a well day for six months. Malaria has held me in its grip and for the past seven weeks I have been confined to bed. Thanks to PAM-ALA I am now entirely well again."

THE DUTCH KITCHEN.

Largest Room in the House and Has a Bed in the Corner.

Holland, of all countries, is a memorial to the unceasing labor of man's hands. It exists not because the sea, higher than its green stretches, suffers it to, but because man by the labor of his hands and of his brain has kept the water back. The Dutch people have not only earned their land—they have made it.

"When have they found time to do it all?" you ask yourself. But you are to know more of the work which in Holland never ceases. Of the work which goes on within those houses you know nothing until at Delft you make your first acquaintance with a Dutch kitchen.

The kitchen is properly a large room as compared with the other rooms in the house, for it is the gathering place at all times for the family. The table is round and stands not quite in the center of the room, but so that the mistress, sitting at one side, can reach her hand out to the stove without rising.

In one corner of the kitchen is such a bed as you have never seen before. The stiffly starched white muslin curtains make it look like a blind window, but the grandson pulls the curtains back, and in the recess formed by the closet on one side and the corner of the room on the other you see the place where your hostess sleeps. There are a high feather bed and many coverings.

The stove is a brick one, set in a deep old fireplace. The old mantel is piled with brass vessels, which the old woman uses as though they were common tin. On one side is a china statue of the Virgin. On the other side under a glass globe is a waxen statue of Queen Wilhelmina in her wedding gown.—New Idea Magazine.

The Oldest.

Three old sports were chatting after a copious dinner, when one of them said, "I bet $5 my name is the oldest."

The bet was immediately accepted, and he produced his card, reading "Mr. Abel."

"Oh, dear $5!" said the second, showing his card. "I am Mr. Adam."

"Mine is the bet," replied the other, producing his card, and they could read "Mr. B. Ginning" printed on it.—Judge's Library.

A Bright Boy.

"Now, Tommy," said the teacher, "you may give me an example of coincidence."

"Why—er," said Tommy, with some hesitation—"why—er—why, me fadder and me mudder was both married on de same day."—Harper's Weekly.

Shrewd Girl.

Ella—Bella is an economical girl.

Stella—There is no doubt about that. She is engaged to a clergyman, and he says that she asked him if he couldn't perform the marriage ceremony and save the wedding fee.—New York Press.

National Pride.

Returning bankers say European investment in American securities is rapidly increasing. Foreigners have evidently been watching the lavish way Americans spend money while abroad.

WHERE THE REMEDY LIES.

The remedy for the mail order business rests with home merchants. If instead of sitting down in despair or gloomily telling people how their trade is cut by the mail order houses, they would but imitate some of the features of these houses, and then go one better, they would have no cause to complain of poor trade.

It is by profuse and timely advertising, and by getting that advertising into the homes, the mail order business thrives. Too often the home merchant contents himself with a small, unattractive ad. that does not appeal to people. When that is the case he alone is to blame if the mail order house gets the best of him.

Let the home merchant catch the eye by generous and timely advertising in which the quality and variety of his goods are set forth. Let him also point out how in the home store the customer sees the goods before he buys them, that he does not have to pay in advance, that if his credit is good credit is given, and that there are no vexatious delays in delivering the goods (all of which are advantages the customer of a mail order house never has), and business will flourish.

It may be said that people know this already. Probably they do, but it is necessary to get them to realize it, and that is done by constantly keeping at it.

NOW ONLY AN ACADEMIC BODY.

The United States Circuit Court for the Northern District of Illinois has handed down a decision which is of far-reaching importance, for if sustained by the Supreme Court it will curtail the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission to such an extent as to make it a mere academic body, vested with the right to pass opinions whether rates are reasonable or not, and not to dictate what the railroads have to do.

The decision was in the now-famous Missouri River and Denver rate cases, in which the Interstate Commerce Commission sought to enforce the adoption by the railroads of the principle that the through rate should always be less than the sum of the local rates, and therefore ordered a rate reduction, against which the Western railroads sought an injunction and obtained it.

The results of this decision will be to deprive the commission of the initiative in rate-making, which it has exercised, and to confine its powers to questions of discrimination and reasonableness of freight rates.

Ten or fifteen cents worth of "Quassia," to be had at any drug store, will rid a house of flies for an entire season. Cover the bottom of a plate or tin lid with the chips. Cover with water and add a little molasses or sugar. Place in the window. The same chips can be used over and over again by adding water from time to time. The flies are very fond of this sweetened quassia water and the least sip is fatal to them, and they usually die within a foot or two of the plate. For stores, groceries, meat shops, etc., there is nothing to equal this. Quassia chips are not poisonous to men, women, children or anything except flies.

Very often when a man is climbing upwards he meets with so much opposition that he feels the whole world is fighting against him. That should encourage rather than discourage him. As a general rule, the tree which bears the best apples has the most clubs thrown at it.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Washington Herald: "The Georgia Legislature has fixed a tax of $50 per capita on gypsies. And yet, however, the State has not drawn any tax distinction between Baptists and Presbyterians."

Mobile Register: "Salvation is no longer to be obtained only by personal effort. We are shown an easy way by the Alabama Legislature that will make everybody good by law."

Indianapolis News: "Ambassadors in Mexico must be a good deal more profitable than it is in England. During his comparatively brief incumbency Mr. Thompson has saved up enough to buy a $10,000,000 railroad."

Wayne County (Ga.) News: "If our statesmen were to give as much attention to the betterment of our laws as has been given to the neighbor problem the lawlessness and crime waves would be vanquished more quickly by putting criminals where they belong."

Tables of the values of the farm products for the present year contain some surprising information. For instance: The poultry products are worth much more than the baled cotton crop; worth more than the wheat, sugar, rice and buckwheat crops combined, the total value being placed at $750,000,000. At this rate the hens could pay an annual dividend of about 5 per cent on the entire capital stock of all the railroads of this country.

A Hurry-Up Medicine.

Every housekeeper recognizes the need of effective remedies to be used in emergencies—when something must be done right away. Such a remedy is Perry Davis' Painkiller, for sprains and bruises, for strained muscles and for the aches and pains resulting from blows and falls. CURED ITCHING PAINFUL HUMOR

"Which had Spread Over Face, Body and Arms—Swellings were as Large as a Dollar—When they Broke, Sores would Not Heal—Suffered 3 Years.

MADE SOUND AND WELL BY 3 SETS OF CUTICURA

"My trouble began about three years ago with little black swellings scattered over my face and neck. They would disappear but they would leave little black scars that would itch at times so I couldn't keep from scratching them. Larger swellings would appear in the same place and they were so painful I could hardly bear it and my clothes would stick to the sores. The first doctor I went to said the disease was scrofula, but the trouble only got worse and spread. By this time it was all over my arms and the upper part of my body in big swellings as large as a dollar. It was so painful that I could not bear to lie on my back at night. The second doctor pronounced my disease inflammation of the lymphatic glands. He stopped the swellings, but when they would break the places would not heal. He tried everything that he could but to no effect. He said I might be cured but it would take a long time. I bought a set of the Cuticura Remedies and used them according to directions and in less than a week some of the places were nearly well. I continued with the Cuticura Remedies until I had used three sets, and now I am sound and well. The disease lasted three years from the time it commenced until I was cured. Before Christmas something broke out on my seven year old brother's hands in the form of large sores. I tried everything I could think of but to no effect until I happened to think of Cuticura and one application cured him. Also, not long ago, my sister got a bad burn on her ankle. I have been using Cuticura on that and it gave her scarcely any trouble. O. L. Wilson, Puryear, Tenn., Feb. 8, 1908."

Vulture, and Rattlesnake.

An odd battle between a California vulture and a rattlesnake was witnessed in the Cocopah mountains, Lower California. It was in the early morning. The big bird had seized the snake behind the head and was struggling upward with its writhing, dead burden. The snake's caper appears aware that its victim was dangerous. The burden was heavy, as the reptile was nearly five feet long.

The grip of the bird on the snake's body was not of the best. The snake seemed to be squirming from its captor's talons, at least sufficiently to enable it to strike. Its triumphant head was seen to recoil and crouch at the mass of feathers.

It did this once or twice, and then with a shriek the vulture dropped its prey. The bird was probably fat for or so above the observers. The astonished men were then treated to spectacle seldom seen. Few birds by a vulture could accomplish such a feat.

The instant the snake escaped from the bird's clutches it dropped earthward like a shot, and like a shot the bird dropped after it, catching it in midair with a grip that caused death. At any rate, the snake ceased to wriggle, and the vulture soared away to a mountain peak to devour its hard earned meal.

The Distinguished Guest.

Captain Raabe was a man whose name had weight in the French cavalry. He was a tall man, belonging to the middle aged trooper type. With military qualities of the highest kind, he had a singular bearing, a savage sort of misanthropy and a cynical tongue, which stood in the way of promotion. When he was in the Sixth lancers, on garrison duty at Commerc, one of his comrades brought his father to dine with him at the officers' mess, a man of humble position and unpretentiously dressed. Captain Raabe, considering that this guest had not been fitly received, gave expression to his opinion, saying that if the executioner of Commerc had come in evening dress he would have had a better reception. The officers demurring, he made no rejoinder, but shortly afterward came to mess with a guest whose dress was irreproachable. Every one lavished attentions on the unknown. When dinner was over Captain Raabe, raising his glass, proposed the health of "the executioner of Commerc."

Best Treatment for a Burn.

If for no other reason, Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns. It allays the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a severe one, heals the parts without leaving a scar. This salve is also unequalled for chapped hands, sore nipples and diseases of the skin. Price, 25 cents. For sale by all druggists.

Not Built That Way.

For the first time the old lady was about to make a railway journey, and when she arrived at the station she did not know what to do.

"Young man," she said to a porter who looked about as old as Methuselah, "can you tell me where I can get my ticket?"

"Why, mum," he replied, "you get it at the booking office through the pigeonhole."

Being very stout, she looked at the hole in amazement, and then she burst out in a rage:

"Go away with you, you old idiot! How can I get through there? I ain't no blessed pigeon!"—London Answers.

Not Interested.

"I have called," said the book agent, "to see if I can interest you in a little work."

"Young man," snapped the woman who answered the door, "just now I am interested in washing my dishes, dusting, cleaning up after the paper-hanger, making six beds, polishing the hardwood floors, ironing my husband's shirts, getting two more meals today, darning nine pairs of stockings and stringing my sweet peas, and I might say that that's more work than you men ever thought of doing. No; you can't interest me in any more."—Detroit Free Press.

Women Suffer

much needless pain when they delay using Cardui for their female troubles. Cardui has been found to relieve headache, backache, pain in the side and dizziness arising from deranged organs. It does more than relieve,—if used persistently,—many have written to say that it cured them.

TAKE CARDUI

J 37

It Will Help You

Mrs. Maxwell Johnson, Tampa, Fla., writes: "Cardui cured me after doctors and everything else had failed. I had been suffering with numb spells ever since I was 16 years old. One day I decided to take Cardui. I have now taken 5 bottles and I can say that it has cured me. I advise all suffering women to give Cardui a long and fair trial."

Mrs. Johnson suffered years. Have you? Do you wish to? But why suffer at all? Take Cardui. Give it a fair trial.

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

Are YOU Being "Hunted?"

One of today's want ads. may be hunting you—ransacking the city for you. It may have a message for you of urgent personal importance—one that, when you get it, and heed it, may change the immediate currents of your activities, of your interests—may even place around and about you new environments, new associates; may give you an entirely new start in a business way.

Isn't it worth while to try to find out whether this may not be true—today, tomorrow, or very soon?

THE SAWMILL'S BOOKS.

They Needed Not an Auditor, but a Mathematical Carpenter.

Biffkins froze me with a stare. "I remember," he went on, calmly ignoring my interruption, "one time when I was hired to keep books for a saw-mill way up north. 'Twas six days by log wagon from ever' place except in the infernal regions, the same being a quarter of a mile away, straight down. The durned simpleton they sent down to Nigger Wool settlement after me had so much business with a roulette dealer that he forgot to tell me to get some office supplies, so when we got to camp I found that the principal equipment of my palatial 6 by 8 business apartment consisted of three lumber crayons, slightly shop worn, and a last year's almanac. I got some smooth pine boards and kept my books on them with chalk."

"How did it work?" I asked, interested in spite of myself.

"Like a charm," grinned Biffkins "until the foreman of gang I got on a drunk one night an' slept in the office an' used up fourteen pages of the general ledger fer kindlin' wood the next mornin'. The company sent up an auditor to check over my books, but he went back plumb disgusted. Told 'em they didn't need an auditor—what they wanted was a carpenter who was handy at figgers. An' that reminds me!"

—Bookkeeper.

A Narrow Escape.

Edgar N. Bayliss, a merchant of Robinsonville, Del., wrote: "About two years ago I was thin and sick, and coughed all the time and if I did not have consumption, it was near it. I commenced using Foley's Honey and Tar, and it stopped my cough, and I am now entirely well, and have gained twenty-eight pounds, all due to the good results from taking Foley's Honey and Tar." J. W. McCollum & Co.

Pertaining to Fish.

Blessings on thee, little man! Go a-fishing when you can. Never mind the teacher's rule not to run away from school. Take your bait and alder pole and then hunt the deepest hole where the wary troutlets hide by the canyon streamlet's side. You'll get hooked at home, of course, and you'll suffer great remorse, but when daddy sees your string he'll gasp and say, "By jing!" And his rod and reel he'll snatch and start out to make a catch when your jacket he doth tan. Blessings on you, little man!—Los Angeles Express

Warning.

Do not be persuaded into taking anything but Foley's Honey and Tar for chronic coughs, bronchitis, hay fever, asthma, and lung trouble, as it stops the cough and heals the lungs. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Hard to Choose.

"Why can't she make a choice between her suitors?"

"Well, one of them is a press agent. His language is very attractive. But the other is a traveling salesman, and he treats her as if she were a buyer."—Kansas City Journal

FLOATING STORES.

Merchandise Steamers of the Muskoka Lake Country in Ontario.

Among the interesting features of life in the Muskoka lake country, in Ontario, are the floating stores. A good sized steam vessel fitted out with every imaginable item of merchandise that might be required makes a tour of an assigned chain of lakes once each week. On a certain hour of a certain day the boat is expected at the different resorts and summer homes, and enough merchandise must be bought at each to tide over until the next trip of the floating store.

Upon stepping on board the store boats, says a writer in Popular Mechanics, the purchaser approaches a counter with scales and cash drawer, as in any other kind of store. Behind the counter are shelves, on which are displayed such articles as may tempt the eye. Behind these shelves is the entrance to the storeroom and hold, in which more merchandise is stored. Each article has its place, and the storekeeper can find it in a moment.

Sometimes isolated farms on the lakes are not worth stopping at every trip, so a flag is flown when stores are desired. The store vessel drops anchor when the signal flag is flown, and some member of the family rows out and makes the purchases.

Testifies After Four Years.

Carlisle Center, N. Y., G. E. Burhans, writes "About four years ago I wrote you that I had been entirely cured of kidney trouble by taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and after four years I am again pleased to state that I have never had any return of those symptoms, and I am evidently cured to stay cured." Foley's Kidney Remedy will do the same for you. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Clothes and the Man.

Man is in some sort a slave to his clothes, and there are many men who dislike wearing the same clothes on two consecutive days, more particularly the necktie. For the first two or three things you look at when you meet a man are his eyes and his necktie. And there is a sort of underlying consciousness as you face the morning world that your tie must be straight and clean and new. But to this end you must buy the cheap tie and throw it away with your sins before going to bed.—London Chronicle.

To Be Happy

You must have good health. You can't have good health if your liver is not doing its duty—slow but sure poisoning is going on all the time under such circumstances. Ballard's Herbine makes a perfectly healthy liver—keeps the stomach and bowels right and acts as a tonic for the entire system. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

The Attraction

"You say you are in love with Miss Jiggs?"
"I sure am."
"But I can't see anything attractive about her."
"Neither can I see it. But it's in the bank, all right!"—Cleveland Leader

Dr. Abernethy, the great English physician, said, "Watch your kidneys. When they are affected, life is in danger." Foley's Kidney Remedy makes healthy kidneys, corrects urinary irregularities, and tones up the whole system. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Women Suffer Agonies from Diseased Kidneys

And Most Women Do This Not Knowing the Real Cause of their Condition

These poor, suffering women have been led to believe that their misery of mind and body is entirely due to "ills of their sex." Usually the kidneys and bladder are responsible—or largely so. And in such cases, the kidneys and bladder are the organs, that need and must have attention.

Those torturing, enervating sick headaches, dragging pains in back, groin and limbs, bloating and swelling of the extremities, extreme nervousness or hysteria, listlessness and constant tired, worn-out feeling—are almost certain symptoms of disordered and diseased kidneys, bladder and liver.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills have, in thousands of cases, been demonstrated as remarkably beneficial in all such conditions of female organism—affording the most prompt relief and permanent benefit.

As an illustration of what these Pills will do, Mrs. P. M. Bray of Columbus, Ga., writes that she was very ill with kidney trouble, and that she is now well—and that these Pills are what cured her.

They are very pleasant to take, and can in no case, produce any deleterious effects upon the system—as syrupy, alcoholic, liquid preparations are apt to do.

E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill., want every man and woman who have the least suspicion that they are afflicted with kidney and bladder diseases to at once write them, and a trial box of these Pills will be sent free by return mail post-paid. Do it to-day.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS

A Clever Acrobat.

A diverting anecdote is told in "Annals of the Liverpool Stage" of an unheeded episode that occurred at the Hop, a cheap but popular place of entertainment. A troupe of acrobats were engaged, and one of their number gave a "single turn" in which he displayed his skill as a champion weight lifter. Somebody, however, on mischief bent, changed one of the fifty-six pound weights for one made of cardboard. The strong man's vision was impaired by the loss of one eye, but in this instance not unfortunately so. He took the first and second weights, and after having manipulated them he took the third, the one made of cardboard. Realizing in an instant what had been done, he was quickly decided to turn it to his own advantage by throwing three "dip-flaps" while holding the dummy weight. He was greeted with a perfect round of applause, and the audience declared it to be the greatest feat they had ever witnessed.

Health and Beauty Aid.

Cosmetics and lotions will not clear your complexion of pimples and blotches like Foley's Orino Laxative, for indigestion, stomach and liver troubles and habitual constipation. Cleanses the system and is pleasant to take. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Enraged Traffic

"How do you know, Higgins enjoys trouble?"
"Because he's rather to the umpire in a base ball game than one of the players."—Exchange.

"You leads to trouble," said a proverb.

Not a minute should be lost when a child shows symptoms of croup. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. Sold by all druggists.

Engraved Gems of the Ancients.

Engraving gems are among the most interesting objects of art inherited by us from the ancients. Though many of the cameos and intaglios were engraved on precious stones over 2,000 years ago, they are still as clear and fine as if they were cut yesterday. The designs engraved on these stones indicate that the old Greeks and Romans regarded them as charms against accident or misfortune. This superstition generally took the form of a fondness for representation of certain animals. Sailors affected the dolphin because it was believed to be the mariner's friend. Women, so far as fishes were concerned, preferred the representation of the prolific aringa of the Adriatic, which was a symbol of fruitfulness because of the great number of its eggs. The ant was worn as an emblem of industry. By the frog was indicated the idea of resurrection, because that interesting batrachian renews its youth each spring by shedding its old skin.

Good for Biliousness.

"I took two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets last night, and I feel fifty per cent better than I have for weeks," says J. J. Firestone of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for biliousness." For sale by all druggists. Samples free.

Getting an Early Start.

"Father, what do you wish me to be when I grow up?"
"The same as I am, my son—a lawyer."
"Then instead of wasting any more time on arithmetic, geography and such truck I'd better be getting at the hypothetical question, hadn't I?"—Judge.

Your complexion as well as your temper is rendered miserable by a disordered liver. By taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets you can improve both. Sold by all druggists.

CHAS. BLUM & CO.

517-519 W. Bay St. Jacksonville, Florida

GAINESVILLE, —THE— University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance.

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State, is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road, affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat, "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

The University of Florida for young men and the National Agricultural Experiment Station are located within the corporate limits of the city. In fact, Gainesville has so many things that we must be pardoned if we omit a few of them in the following enumeration of what

Gainesville Has:

One artist.
No saloons.
One garage.
Four hotels.
Four banks.
Four drug stores.

Five dressmaking establishments.
National Odd Fellows' Sanitarium.
Three undertaking establishments.
Two of the best hotels in the interior.
Two wholesale grain and feed stores.
Two wholesale grocery establishments.
Water "that has made Gainesville famous."
The finest opera house in the State outside of Jacksonville.
A Government building soon to be erected to cost when completed $150,000.
Carpenters, masons, plasterers, painters, printers, machinists and laboring men galore.

More miles of paved streets and granite sidewalks than any other town in the interior of the State.

An $85,000 court house built of brick and stone—a beautiful structure—and the lawns, flower beds, shrubbery, Confederate monument, etc., surrounding it, make it a most attractive picture.

E. W. Millican of Waldo was a visitor to the city yesterday. He is extensively engaged in the manufacture of turpentine and is particularly happy over the present prices.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Burnett have returned from Daytona Beach, where the latter has been spending the past few weeks. Mr. Burnett spent the past week at this popular resort.

It is the nature of man to strive for the best. To attain the best requires usually strenuous effort; no strife. No effort is needed to get the best when you patronize the Brown House.

Dr. S. D. Means, accompanied by his wife and little son, were in the city yesterday en route to their home at McIntosh. They were returning from their summer trip and the Doctor went over to Jacksonville to meet them.

A. I. Poozer, the gentlemanly train master for this division of the Atlantic Coast Line, returned yesterday from his annual vacation. He spent the greater part of his time in the West and reports a most delightful vacation.

Miss Jessie Wimberley, who is a recent graduate of an Atlanta pharmaceutical college, left yesterday for Jacksonville to accept a position with the O'Donald Drug Company, one of the largest concerns of the metropolis engaged in this line of business.

E. Marcionny, the genial deputy sheriff of Alachua, and who is also the proprietor of The News and the wide-awake photographer of that place, was in the city yesterday, having come for the purpose of bringing a negro prisoner, Tom Coker, who is up on a charge of obtaining good-under false pretense.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like to hear and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery, or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all druggists.

OCALA PLAYING BALL.

Wins First Two Games from Sanford Baseball Club.

In the games so far at Ocala between the Brick City and Sanford teams the Ocala nine have come out victorious, and it now looks as if they have things coming their way for the final wind-up of the season with the Oak Halls.

The first game in that city resulted in a score of 4 to 1 in favor of Ocala, while on Tuesday they defeated the Celery City lads by a score of 7 to 1.

Dunnellon Defeats Cedar Key.

In an interesting game at Dunnellon on Tuesday the Dunnellon team defeated Cedar Key by a score of 5 to 1. The Dunnellon club have not lost a single game this season.

Marriage at Orange Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Waits left Tuesday afternoon for Orange Lake to be present at the marriage of their niece, Miss Ruby Waits, to Mr. Barnett Hatcher of Hawthorn, which happy event will be solemnized at 6 o'clock this morning.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Hatcher will board the Ocala-Jacksonville train over the Atlantic Coast Line for a honeymoon trip to points in Virginia, Washington and other States.

Mr. and Mrs. Waits made the trip to Orange Lake in their automobile.

To the Public.

Mr. G. K. Landers, who had charge of our heavy hauling department, has severed his connection with our firm, and has been succeeded by Mr. Walter Bryant, who will be pleased at all times to do anything in that line. Thanking those who have patronized us through Mr. Landers and soliciting a continuance and an increase with Mr. Bryant, we beg to remain,

Yours to serve.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery and should be taken at the first untimely looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all druggists.

Rep. F. E. Hale of Cedar Key was a visitor to Gainesville yesterday, en route to the annual conference of the Florida House of Representatives in that place and was for many years a member of the board of county commissioners of Levy county. The editor of The Sun has entered the personal acquaintance of Mr. Hale for the past fifty years, and it was indeed a pleasure to meet him again.

W. W. Harris, Jr., who was for a number of years a citizen of Gainesville, being engaged the greater part of the time in the brokerage business, was a visitor to the city yesterday. He is now making his headquarters in Deland, being in the grain business, but it is understood that he will shortly open up another place at Ocala. His many Gainesville friends were glad to see him again.
